INTREN is an award-winning WBE specialty contractor that serves the nation’s largest utilities, private contractors and developers, municipalities, and cooperatives. Over the years, we’ve proven to be a reliable partner that excels in exterior commercial, industrial, and residential projects. As a company with a wide range of capabilities, our depth of knowledge and flexibility allow us to see problems and solutions before jobs start.

Our experience with commercial projects, healthcare complexes, industrial developments, educational facilities, office campuses, and large shopping centers has prepared us to take on any project in any capacity. This background and our creativity permit us to work in highly populated areas without disturbing local communities.

OUR COMMERCIAL AND INDUSTRIAL CAPABILITIES INCLUDE:

- Dry utility conduits
- Electrical and communication duct banks
- Site electrical
- Manhole construction and installation
- Electrical trenching and excavation
- Wire installation and splicing
- Private metered electrical distribution
- Directional boring
- Cable installations and terminations
- Vacuum excavation
- Site lighting
- Sports lighting

FEATURED PROJECT

The Chicago-area Data Center project involved 40,000+ LF of 6” EB-20 PVC conduit concrete encased; 45,000+ LF of 4” SCH40 PVC conduit concrete encased; four large “T” type electric manholes; six large straight electric manholes; and ten 12’ x 6’ x 7’ high communication manholes. The main electric duct run included forty 6” conduits with a concrete pour approximately 400’ long x 26’ wide x 4–4.5’ high.

Constructed in wintry conditions with muddy, uneven ground and multiple work types being executed at once, the team ran into challenges. Difficulties included a lack of crane access, special chimney pours, and additional manhole reconstruction. Nevertheless, the project is ongoing and continues to move forward on time, under budget, and without any safety incidents.
INTREN is changing the face of construction. We’ve been outperforming for our customers for 30 years—integrating our core values into the way we do business and serving as stewards of our customers’ goals.

Let us put our cross-disciplinary experience to work for you! Call 815.923.2300 or visit INTREN.com today.

OutPerforming. Everyday.